

The Speaker

Jen Pettis, RN, BS, WCC, RAC-MT, C-NE is the Director of Program Development for Harmony Healthcare International. Harmony Healthcare provides the healthcare industry with the tools to successfully manage the clinical, financial and operational components of the Medicare, Medicaid and Rehabilitation Programs.

In addition to being a Master Teacher for AANAC's resident assessment coordinator-certified (RAC-CT) program, Certified Nurse Executive (CN-E) program and Medicare University, Jen provides minimum data set (MDS) training through the State University of New York at Albany's School of Public Health.

Jen has held various roles in healthcare over more than 20 years and has extensive clinical and management experience. She has authored numerous articles related to long-term care and has presented sessions at various state and national long-term care conferences.

Her experiences combined with her knowledge of the resident assessment instrument (RAI) process and of long-term care regulations enhance her training sessions which consistently result in positive feedback from participants.
