An Achievement of Excellence

On behalf of the Kentucky Association of Health Care Facilities, I am pleased to present this guide to showcasing your achievements at our 2009 Annual Meeting and Trade Show. The conference will be held at the Galt House Hotel and Suites on Nov. 10-12 in Louisville. Mark your calendars now as we celebrate being Champions of Change in honor of the quality care and support you give our residents every day.

The Education/Convention Committee has planned three days of exciting events and enlightening educational seminars, with topics appealing to every attendee to continue building winning programs and facilities. We hope you take advantage of these opportunities to network with your peers, learn the latest information on important long term care issues, and have some fun.

WHY SHOULD YOU ATTEND?

- Join us as we announce our winners at the Professional Achievement Awards Celebration and the Awards Banquet and Dance.
- Experience the thrill of victory by placing the winning bid at the annual KHCF Silent Auction, and at the same time, know you are contributing to help build a champion team of caregivers as the proceeds benefit the Foundation Scholarship program.
